REPORT

OF THE

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

OF THE

TOWN OF WEST CAMBRIDGE,

FOR THE YEAR 1857–8.

BOSTON:

REPORT.

The Committee proceed, as required by law, to give a detailed account of the condition of the Schools.

EAST DISTRICT.

This School has been taught, the last year, by Miss L. M. Hoytt.

Largest number of scholars any term,	60
Smallest " " " "	45
Average attendance, ...	36

Notwithstanding the difficulties attending the management of a mixed school, made up as this school is of Primary School and Grammar School scholars, there is found here a thorough system of instruction and discipline which it is very gratifying to witness. The school-room is spacious and well ventilated, and pleasantly situated. The register shows the names of a large number of parents who have visited the school during the year. There seems to be a co-operation of parents and pupils with teacher and committee.—While this state of things continues, the school must prosper.

CENTRE DISTRICT.

The upper School in this District has been taught the last year by Mr. J. W. Willis, assisted by Miss Sarah M. Hunt.

Largest number of scholars any term,	90
Smallest " " " "	82
Average attendance, ...	66

This is not strictly a Grammar School. Many of the studies pursued here properly belong in a school of a higher grade. These branches of study cannot be pursued to the best advantage in a school of this character and size, without occupying an undue proportion of the teachers' attention. The result of the examination confirms this view. For while the recitations of the proper Grammar School classes were very creditable to the pupils and the teachers, and quite satisfactory to the Committee, the more advanced classes did not do as well as could be desired. We would except from this remark the class in Physical Geography, which recited with readiness and confidence, evincing a general mastery of the subject.

The Primary School in this District continues under the charge of its former faithful and efficient teacher, Miss C. C. Turner.

Largest number of scholars any term,	77
Smallest " " " "	70
Average attendance, ...	54

This School passed an excellent examination, showing the result of thorough instruction and good discipline. It is a large school, and suffers much from the low and ill ventilated apartments it occupies. This is always a discouragement to an earnest teacher, and a damper to the pupils' interest. Many parents have visited this school during the year, showing an interest in it, which it is hoped will manifest itself in securing an airy and comfortable room for the school at an early date.

NORTH WEST DISTRICT.

The upper School in this District has been under the instruction of Mr. H. A. Dearborn, the last year.

Largest number of scholars any term,	56
Smallest " " " "	51
Average attendance, ...	40

There has been a very satisfactory progress in this School during the year. The school shows marks of thorough training. The recitations of the first classes were excellent. The lower classes seemed not to have received quite their proper share of attention. This state of things is due to the defective classification of our schools. It is impossible for one teacher to do justice to so great a variety of studies as is pursued in this school. There are very few names of parents among the visitors to this school. The present prosperity of the school would be much increased by frequent visits from the parents of the district.

The Primary School in this District has been under the instruction of its former teacher, Miss M. C. Hill, assisted the first two terms by Miss A. L. Russell, and the last, by Miss F. R. Fessenden.

Largest number of scholars any term,	100
Smallest " " " "	90
Average attendance, ...	76

We are happy to repeat the commendations of this School made by former Committees. We are surprised at the progress made by the children in their studies, when we consider the unfavorable circumstances in which they are placed. This is the largest school in town, and is crowded into a room in which it is utterly impossible for the children to get the amount of air necessary for their health, without opening the windows and causing a very unsafe exposure. Several children have been removed from this school, because their health was suffering from the impure atmosphere of the room to such an extent as to alarm the parents. The atmosphere in this room when heated by a stove, and breathed over and over again by eighty or ninety children, is exceedingly offensive and unwholesome. We are satisfied that, if the parents would visit the school often enough to ascertain the dangers to which they are subjecting their children, by sending them here, this great obstacle to the usefulness of the school, would soon be removed.

SOUTH DISTRICT.

The upper School in this District was for the first two terms of the year under the charge of Mr. A. R. Bullard; the last term, it was taught by Mr. G. S. Newcomb.

Largest number of scholars any term,	40
Smallest " " " "	40
Average attendance, ...	33

This School has suffered for several years the evils consequent upon a frequent change of teachers. At the examination made by the Committee, in the Autumn, the school appeared very well. At the public examination this Spring, there were so few scholars present, that we were unable to form a just opinion of the condition of the school. This school, under a good teacher, with the co-operation of the parents, must take a high rank among our schools.

The Primary School in this District has been taught by Miss Ellen W. Douglass.

Largest number of scholars any term,	41
Smallest " " " "	31
Average attendance, ...	28

This School has been broken in upon considerably by sickness the last part of the year. This examination of the small number present, at the close of the term, gave satisfaction to the parents present, and to the Committee.

The law which requires the Committee to make a detailed report of the Public Schools, also requires us to make such statements and suggestions in relation to such schools as we shall deem necessary or proper to promote the interest thereof. In accordance with this requirement, the Committee would call the attention of the citizens, and especially of parents, to our Primary School-rooms. We have one school of ninety scholars, and another of a hundred, in rooms quite inadequate to their accommodation. These rooms are uncomfortable and unhealthy. According to the lowest estimate ever made of the quantity of air necessary for an individual, these rooms do not afford enough for a much smaller number of children than is daily found in them. Any system of education is perfect just so far as it produces a unity and symmetry in the developement of all the powers. Now in these rooms the physical developement is not only neglected, but the seeds of weakness and disease are sown. Children may there secure a certain amount of intellectual developement, but the proper balance of powers is destroyed, for nothing is more strictly true than that "a healthy mind resides in a healthy body." Persons thus educated are not well trained to combat error, and to judge of what is true in life, but are fitted to become easy victims to the various delusions with which our age is teeming.

The Primary School-rooms in the Centre and North West Districts, demand immediate attention. In the South District, the urgency of the case is not so great, owing to the small number of scholars, yet the room is far from what it should be. The liberality with which the town responded to the request for an additional appropriation for the schools as soon as the necessity for it was shown, makes the Committee hope that the citizens will visit these schools-rooms, where we are sure they will be convinced of the necessity of a change, and that we shall soon have suitable accommodations for the schools.

To increase the usefulness of our schools, there is needed a more earnest interest in education among all the inhabitants of the town. The general School Committee and the teachers are not the only guardians of the educations of our children; every man exerts an influence upon his own children or upon other children in his neighborhood. The children bring to school the influences that they have felt at home, and which they have felt in the street, in the shops and stores they have entered. Each citizen in town should consider himself bound to obey the spirit of our statute law, and to "exert his influence, and use his best endeavors that the youth of the town shall regularly attend the schools;" and to aid our school teachers "to impress on the minds of children and youth committed to their care and instruction, the principles of piety, justice, and a sacred regard for truth, love to their country, humanity, and universal benevolence, sobriety, industry and frugality, chastity, moderation and temperance, and those other virtues which are the ornament of human society, and the basis upon which a republican constitution is founded."

Finally, the Committee would call the attention of the town, particularly, to one practical difficulty which has been alluded to, and which should be recognized and understood, although at present it may be inconvenient to meet it with a sufficient remedy. They refer to the imperfect classification of Schools. The division of schools into Grammar and Primary, simply, can hardly be considered a system ; and yet a systematic arrangement of schools, suited to the different marked degrees of intellectual development in children, is the only means of securing to all a proper training. For example, the Primary School groups together two distinct grades of scholars : the alphabet children, or beginners, and those who for two years or more have been subjected to educational discipline.

The difference between these two grades is greater than is ordinarily supposed. The child of five years, who is just beginning its school career, is impatient of long restraint and confinement, and in its early steps in knowledge, requires considerable freedom and indulgence, and much personal attention on the part of the teacher. It is gently, patiently, and reasonably to be led into the method and discipline by which its young mind is to be developed. After the experience of two or three years, it has learned to submit to order, authority and wholesome restraint, and calls for different treatment and oversight. Now it is impossible to combine in a single school the methods of discipline which these two grades of children require One grade will be governed too loosely, and the other too strictly, if the discipline be uniform; or if an attempt be made to govern each according to its requirements, there must result confusion in the entire discipline. The Primary School should, therefore, be divided. This has already been done to some extent in the school in the North West District. The assistant teacher has charge of the younger children in the smaller room, and their separation from the other scholars has proved to be to their mutual benefit.

In the Grammar Schools a similar necessity for separation appears. In the first place, the youngest class is ordinarily too young for the Grammar School, but it has been pushed upward to make room for the increasing number in the Primary School, from which it has just come. Then the oldest class has attained to the point when the mind begins to appreciate and crave for knowledge, and while no longer needing so much of the artificial restraint under which it has reached its present growth, requires still the constant guidance and aid of the experienced teacher. Here, again, must be a conflict of treatment. The classes below the first have not yet outgrown the discipline which their proper culture demands; the first class has passed beyond it. The teacher then must adapt his management as he best can, to the wide range of age and mental character of his school. The result must necessarily be, that one grade or another of scholars will suffer, through the impossibility of directing the teachers' attention to these widely different claims.

This difficulty in the classification of schools is no new experience. Other communities have suffered from it, and have found its remedy. This consists in a separation of the different grades of scholars into separate schools. The Primary School is sub-divided into Alphabet and Primary Schools. The Grammar School comprises those children who are able to pass into it from the Primary School, according to a scale of qualification ; together with those who are younger than the oldest class of Grammar scholars. The children composing this oldest class are then placed in a Central, or High School, where they can receive that individual attention, and competent instruction, which their age and mental condition demand.

In the cities, a further sub-division is made, but in a town like this, the system indicated would suffice.

The Committee cannot feel that they have discharged their entire duty, without bringing the necessity of this change of classification of schools to the attention of their fellow citizens. It secures a complete and regular grade of schools, in which children within the school age, receive a training according to their intellectual condition and requirement. Uniformity, and progressive advancement are thus obtained in all the schools, and effort on the part of the scholars is stimulated, as they see before them the successive steps of attainment, ending at last in the highest school. The character of the schools throughout, arranged under such a system, must be that of life, interest and improvement.

The Committee ask the careful consideration of these suggestions by parents, and friends of the schools.

The change proposed is quite practicable. The addition of a room to each school-house, and the employment of an assistant in each Primary School, would effect the necessary division in the younger schools. The Grammar Schools are already provided for. It will remain to make provision for a Central School; and this is the only alteration which will require any considerable outlay and expense.

Still the Committee are not disposed to press any plan upon their fellow-citizens, until upon examination and reflection the town is prepared to act upon the subject. They are content to leave this general statement of the difficulty and its remedy, feeling confident that ere long, the necessity of decided and thorough action will be seen by all.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Citizens of West Cambridge:

Gentlemen, — In presenting to you this, our Annual Report, as required by law, of the character and condition of our Schools, as well as the action of your Committee in relation thereto, we do not propose to go into an extended discussion of the general subject of education, but confine our remarks to a few prominent topics that have controlled our action for the past year, and which will, also, form the basis of our future course. To a few of these we invite your consideration.

We were well aware that it is the earnest desire of the citizens of the town to foster and maintain good schools — as an evidence of this, with a commendable liberality, at your last annual meeting you increased your appropriation for the support of Teachers, to the sum of $4000 00 to this add the interest of School Fund, ... 352 89 and also State grant, ... 84 42
Making in all a sum of $4437 31
to be expended, if necessary, for that purpose, under the direction of your Committee, subject to certain regulations and restrictions of statute law.

To be entrusted with this expenditure of money under any circumstances, involves a degree of responsibility; but how much greater that responsibility when furnished as a means of educating the rising generation. — Therefore, at the outset, your Committee were duly impressed with this responsible trust confided to them.

By the return of the Assessors, who are required to ascertain and report to the Committee all the children in town, between the ages of 5 and 15, it appears that there are 457 between those ages. By the register, however, the greatest number that has attended during the year, is 482 — the latter includes some over 15. It may be here remarked, that no child under 5 years of age is permitted to attend school, while scholars over 15 may, and many do attend, especially during the winter term. — Hence the practical question, how shall this money be expended, so that all these scholars shall derive the greatest possible advantage therefrom?

The selection of good and competent teachers was the first subject that presented itself to the minds of the Committee in the solution of this question. Without these, it is in vain to undertake to elevate our schools to a position and standing that will satisfy the wishes and meet the demands of the citizens of the town. It is only reiterating a truism to say, that, "as is the teacher, so is the school," for a good and competent teacher can, and will, establish and maintain a good school, while a poor one cannot. Upon these premises your Committee based their action in the selection of teachers. If we have failed in this, it certainly is from no want of effort on the part of your Committee.

We will here give a synopsis of each School separately.

In the North West School there has been no change of teachers. Mr. H. A. Dearborn was retained in charge of the Grammar department to the satisfaction of your Committee. His course of instruction has resulted in producing some fine scholars in the higher branches, which are thoroughly taught.

Miss M. C. Hill continues her laborious task in the Primary Department. She is well adapted to her work both by patience and sympathy with her pupils, and deserves the sympathy of the parents. Miss F. R. Fessenden was retained as an assistant.

The Grammar Department of the Centre School has had to pass through the ordeal of two new teachers, which is generally experimental. However good a teacher may be, it takes time for him to become acquainted with his scholars, and they with him, so that mutual confidence and respect will exist between them. Mr. E. P. Bates was first elected. He continued in charge of the school only about six months, discharging his duties very satisfactorily, when he resigned, to take charge of the Academy. The vacancy occurring near the close of a term, was promptly filled by the election of Mr. Albert Palmer, who proves to be an able and efficient teacher, energetic in his efforts to elevate the character of the school.—Here we have also some fine specimens of scholarship. The higher branches, which properly belong to a High School, are here thoroughly taught. As an assistant, Miss Hunt was retained.

In the Primary Department, Miss C. C. Turner still continues her laborious, yet delightful task in teaching "the young idea how to shoot" with an accuracy that hardly fails of the mark. Owing to the large number of children of tender age in this school, an assistant was deemed necessary, and Miss E. F. Brown was appointed, with satisfactory results The school is well taught, and prosperous.

Miss L. M. Hoyt has continued in charge of the South East School. It is characterized by those qualities so essential to a well-taught school, viz: promptness, method, and that whatever is taught is well taught. Some children were permitted to remain here, that more properly belonged to the Grammar School—not to their disadvantage, however. They will be removed next term.

Mr. Arthur P. Smith was elected to take charge of the South Grammar School. He has proved himself to be a faithful teacher, and has discharged his duties to the satisfaction of the Committee and to the District.

Miss E. W. Douglass was retained in the Primary School; with more age and experience, she may make a good teacher.

As our Schools have just passed in review, it may be well to state, in connection, that we find, as a general thing, the girls are in advance of the boys. This will not apply to all the boys, for there are some good scholars among the latter. But taken as a whole, those that have had equal advantages of attending school during the year, the boys, in point of attainments and mental improvement, are too far in the rear of the girls — whatever may be the cause or causes of this, we will not stop here to inquire, but we do say it ought not so to be. We call upon parents to see that the following requirements are complied with on their part:

1st. All truancy is strictly forbidden, and will not be tolerated.

2d. All children are required to go to and from school in a quiet, orderly manner, without stopping at any store, or shop, except by permission of teachers, parents or others having proper authority.

3d. Promptness at the hour of opening school required — all tardiness to be avoided as much as possible.

4th. Cleanliness and order in and about the school-house, out-buildings, etc., to be maintained — all unnecessary noise about the same, also forbidden.

These regulations more particularly apply to the outside influence, and yet are essential to the order and government of the school inside, where correct deportment will ever be maintained.

In consequence of the division of the town, a portion of what was the South District, will naturally become connected with the Centre School, bringing with it some six or eight scholars. These, with what will be taken from the Primary Schools, will increase the Grammar School beyond its capacity for good accommodations—even in the main room. The Recitation rooms connected with both divisions of this school, are unfit for that purpose. Being originally made for clothes rooms merely, they are every way unsuitable for the purposes for which they have been used. Your Committee are decided in their opinion, that better rooms should be provided.

We cannot pass this subject of School accommodations without a few suggestions in relation to it; and in doing so, we concur in the opinion of our predecessors, that the town should adopt some plan of grading our schools. There never has been, or ever will be, a time when this could have been or can be done so well as at the present time. Without going into the discussion of the subject here, we hesitate not to say that we can place our schools on no better basis, or adopt no better plan than this grading system. By this system, your children, beginning with your smallest primary, pass from one department to another, each giving its appropriate course of training, and completing their school education, as most of them will at the highest department. Systematizing your common schools upon this plan, we think our educational advantages in them, and at the Academy, for those who prefer not to educate their children at a public school, must satisfy the reasonable demands of all our citizens as furnishing the means of educating your children within your own territorial limits.

We believe the teachers, generally, have labored industriously in their various departments to elevate the condition and character of our schools. For this noble object, physical, mental and moral energy has been brought to bear upon them. These are the primary elements of a well-regulated school—and it is only by the inculcation of these we can expect to attain those noble results contemplated by the founders of our system of Common Schools. These schools stand with open doors, inviting all, and forbidding none, to enter and share alike its equal advantages. All meet here on common ground. Here is no royal road to learning—no artificial distinction to aid the one, or retard the other. If intellectual distinction and manly character be the object of emulation, it is alike to be obtained by hard study and good conduct. Here, with few exceptions, our sons and daughters are to be educated. They are here to be taught the elementary principles of the language they are to speak, and to receive that course of educational training that is to form the basis of their future investigations in pursuit of knowledge. And from these common schools are they to graduate and go forth into the world to take the places of their fathers and their mothers, and act their part in the grand drama of human life.—Soon will they be called upon to act for us and their succeeding generation—and the responsibility of that action rests mainly upon us—we cannot shake it off if we would, and we should not if we could.

Let the whole subject be met, and that right manfully. Our future happiness as well as theirs is involved in our action. Whatever else may receive the pruning knife of retrenchment and financial reform, may these glorious institutions be spared. May we throw around them rather, every influence, every improvement, that will add convenience, character and dignity to these humble educational nurseries.

Educated every child must and will be. The process is going on every day—in the home, in the street, in the school—in fact, every where, impressions are continually operating on the mind and heart, influencing in the right or wrong direction—whether we heed them or not they are doing their work—results are certain, if not for weal, they are for woe.

The course to be pursued by your Committee is, to institute a good, efficient, moral, mental, and, as far as can be, physical training; and no system of education can be complete without embracing these. A sound mind, a noble and generous heart in a sound body, are to be taken as the type of a good education. The whole man must be dignified, and ennobled. The school must be a place to form the character, and prepare our children for future usefulness in the various positions in which they will soon be called to act.

We have thus endeavored to present to you some of our ideas of the results of an education we wish to be obtained at our schools. And for this purpose, we are willing to labor in bringing about a state of things that will produce these all-important results. And with this end in view, we shall, from time to time, make such alterations and regulations both in doors and out, and retaining only such teachers as the good of the schools may require.

Connected with every school, there is an outside and an inside influence—united in the right direction, it forms a strong bond of union, which should encircle every school, and will become an element of usefulness and success, while no parent connected with the school can divert his influence to an opposite direction without serious injury not only to his own children, but to many others. Let every parent see to it, then, as they desire the welfare of their children, and the prosperity of the school, that they throw no obstacles, or place any hindrances in the way, but that they remove every thing which has a tendency to disturb the harmony that should exist between all concerned in the prosperity of our schools.

We call on you, then, parents and friends, to aid and assist us. It is for the interest of your children as well as ours. The welfare of your posterity is concerned as well as ours, and if you desire to see your children growing up around you, nourished and watered by these purified fountains, like plants beside some perennial spring, expanding day by day, and developing that dignity of character, those sterling principles of virtue, that highly cultivated mind, that manly or womanly form which will prove a blessing to yourselves, to the community in which they live, and to our common country, which demands such to sustain and perpetuate the principles of her institutions — we say, if you desire all these, give your aid — lend your influence in sustaining and perfecting our Common Schools.

WASHINGTON J. LANE,
Assessors of the Town of West Cambridge.

West Cambridge, June 1st, 1859.

SCHOOL REPORT.

In obedience to the requirements of law, we hereby most respectfully submit this, our Annual Report:

Our Schools have been so uniformly successful during the past year, that we need present nothing more at this time than a few statistical items, with brief remarks.

There has been no change of Teachers in the High Street Schools, from last year. In the Grammar department there are some few very excellent scholars. They are thorough and prompt. The girls in this department are far in advance of the boys; and it must ever be so, unless more interest can be awakened in the latter, as well as in the parents. For if parents would have their boys improve in what is good and useful, while within school, they must see to what kind of influences they are exposed when out of school.

Miss Hill and Miss Fessenden are doing a very good work in the Primary Branch of this School. With good order and discipline, it is gradually improving in grade, and we would commend it to the parents as worthy their confidence and support.

Mr. Albert Palmer still continues in charge of the Grammar department of the Centre School. There is more uniformity between the male and female scholars in this school than formerly, and a decided improvement is apparent in the boys from last year. They exhibit more life, more energy, and more mental activity than have been shown for many years. Extra efforts have been brought to bear upon them to awaken their dormant energies, and create in them a love of study, and a desire for knowledge and mental culture. And while the teacher has labored to accomplish this in the boys, the girls have caught the inspiration, and have put forth extra efforts, and have made great proficiency in whatever they have undertaken. For the most part, the scholars are thoroughly drilled in whatever studies they have attended to, and present some fine specimens of scholarship. The classes of boys and girls, as they are now formed, move steadily and thoroughly onward together without any complaint that the one is less studious than the other.

Miss L. S. Morse, who was appointed in place of Miss Hill, who resigned, proves to be a very faithful and efficient co-laborer in this department.

In the Primary Department, Miss Turner still continues to labor faithfully and industriously with Miss E. Cutter, as an assistant. Notwithstanding the want of proper accommodation for so large a number of children as congregate here from day to day, they are cheerful and happy, and there is a manifest improvement in the general character of the School.

Miss E. S. Parker was first appointed to take charge of the East School. At the close of the Spring Term, she resigned, and Miss A. E. Worcester was selected to fill the vacancy. Although laboring under some disadvantage at first, she has succeeded in establishing good order, and a thorough course of training is going on. She proves a valuable acquisition to our list of teachers.

We fear that parents do not fully realize the nature of a Primary School. We are sure if they did, their visits to them would be more frequent, and they would know more about them from personal observation, and not trust them too much in the hands of a Committee. The time of life spent in the Primary School, is the most important period in the whole history of the child's education. Habits of thought, of speech, and of order, are here being formed, that may bias, in a right or wrong direction, the whole character of their education in after life. Mothers in particular, should visit these nurseries often, thereby manifesting by their presence in the school, that they feel a deep interest in their children as well as their teachers, as they meet together from day to day. It is a duty they owe to both. Their presence will do much to encourage and stimulate the children, both in study and behaviour, as well as encourage and sustain the teacher in the arduous and responsible labors of shaping and training the young and tender mind.

We have confidence in their services, and would commend them to you as worthy your hearty co-operation and support. They are all performing a work for you in educating your children, a duty you owe to them, and which you have no right to neglect. Their work is your work. We furnish the workmen, you the material. They are moulding and shaping, day by day, young and plastic minds, and forming characters that are more or less to affect them for life. Your children go from your care every morning to be cared for by another through most of the day. Have you no interest in their going to, and coming from the school, and none when there? Or is your only anxiety concerning them, that they will return too soon, to give you a little trouble? Can you not sympathise with the teacher, who is obliged to take so many children from different home influences, including, more or less, of foreign element, according to locality, and so order and harmonize as to make a good and well-conducted School?

Ponder well and consider, and exercise the same care and solicitude in your Schools as in other matters, if no more, and mark the results in your own children.

The Scholars in Town have attended School as follows: —

	Whole No. Spring Term.	Average Attendance.	Whole No. Winter Term.	Average Attendance.	Over fifteen.
Centre Grammar, ...	69	66	76	72	23
" Primary, ...	89	65	85	70	1
High Street Grammar, ..	50	35	56	42	9
" " Primary, ...	98	85	103	86
East " ...	70	47	59	42

It will be seen that the number of different scholars registered in all our Public Schools the past year, is 394; 33 of whom are over 15, and who attend only the Winter Term.

The money appropriated for the payment of Teachers, is as follows:

Balance on hand from last year, ...		$405 44
Town Grant, ...		2800 00
Interest on Cutter School Fund, ...		291 24
State Grant, ...		95 97
		$3592 65
Orders drawn for payment of Teachers, ...	$3268 83
" " for Schooling Children in Wyman District, as per vote of the Town,	31 00
		3299 83
	Balance,	$292 82

Having now closed our labors for the year, as regards our Schools, it is but natural to suppose that many very pleasant reminiscences should be recalled to mind, as well as some few that are not of so pleasant a character. As to the result of our efforts to bring our Schools to a standing and condition that would be, in some degree, satisfactory to you and beneficial to your children, we leave with you to decide; and whatever the result may be, we have the satisfaction of feeling that we have endeavored, in some faint degree, to perform our duty, however unpleasant that duty, at times may be.

Between the Committee and Teachers, there has been through the year a good understanding, and the kindest of feeling. We have reason to believe they have labored hard and persistently to elevate the character and raise the standard of their respective Schools; and wherein they have failed, it is attributable to the head and not to the heart.

Trial is always the best test of the capability of the Teacher, and there is no place where their tact and talent can be so well known as in the School-room. It is here we judge of the character of the teaching, and we are satisfied that, as a general rule, the studies have been pursued in a thorough manner.

The course of teaching has been more to develope thought than to store the memory, — to understand the principles of a few things, rather than to skim over many pages without any real knowledge of what they contain.

The result of this thorough course of the mind to think for itself, to investigate, examine, and compare, has produced some good scholars.

There is evidently an increasing interest, with a few exceptions, among the scholars in our Schools, which is certainly a gratifying indication of still greater results; and we hope in future to have the hearty co-operation of the parents to aid us in our endeavors to educate the heart as well as the head, — to instruct them to think right and act right. The moral feelings of the heart must no more be neglected than the mental culture of the mind. Both are absolutely necessary in the formation of character.

We cannot close this Report without suggesting to your consideration the subject of providing better accommodation for the Centre School. — This subject has been several times before you, in previous Reports, and we again present it, and would recommend, either that the present building be enlarged, as it now stands, or that you take such other action in relation thereto, as you may deem proper.

MOSES PROCTOR,
WM. E. PARMENTER,
GEORGE HILL,
JOHN D. FREEMAN,
JOSIAH CROSBY,

The Schools in Town, as at present arranged, are as follows: —

Two Grammar,

One Intermediate,

And three Primary.

The whole number of scholars registered last year, ... 442

Their average attendance, ... 336

making the attendance about 76 per cent., showing a loss of 24 per cent., from which, if we take 10 per cent. for sickness and other necessary absences, we still have a loss of 16 per cent. of schooling, mainly through neglect or want of interest on the part of parents.

The best evidence that the public mind feels an interest in a subject, is when it developes itself in action. It is thus we may judge of the minds of this community in the erection of a neat, convenient, and commodious house, for the use of the Union School. It is a source of satisfaction, to all interested in the cause of education, to witness this public spirit manifested in so noble a way as the enlarging and beautifying of our public School houses. These places, where our children are to resort and spend a good portion of the spring-time of life, should be made pleasant, comfortable and attractive. In this respect they should not be a whit behind our churches and private dwellings.

The erection of this house is a step in the right direction. It is a mark of progress, — an important era in the history of our public Schools.

It is arranged for three Schools, — Primary, Intermediate, and Grammar, with a convenient recitation room for the latter, — together with a large basement room, the size of the whole house, well warmed by the furnaces, for the use of the children in cold and stormy weather.

It is but just to mention, in this connection, the names of two of our aged and respectable citizens, — Hon. James Russell and Col. Thomas Russell, — the former presented a bell, the latter a clock, for the use of the house, as a testimonial of their continued interest in the cause of education. Significant gifts — the one to remind the young of the fleetness of time, by noting its departure; the other to summon to duty, by tolling its knell.

The house, being finished and furnished and rendered complete for occupation, was dedicated, with appropriate services, to the uses and purposes for which it was erected, as the Russell School.

The house being ready, the Schools commenced their Winter term in their new home, much to their comfort and convenience, and with grateful emotions to their generous donors.

The Primary scholars, in the Russell and High Street Schools, are divided into two classes, according to age and qualification, each grade occupying separate apartments. This division brings those children of nearly the same age and grade together in rooms by themselves, where they can be better taught and cared for than was possible when together.

Each of the Primary Schools has been supplied with a set of Philbrick's Primary School Tablets. They are well adapted to the class of scholars for which they were intended — young and restless, with no habits of study yet formed, by means of slate and pencil they are furnished with employment that both interests and instructs them, and at the same time keeps them still and quiet.

In giving a short synopsis of the several Schools in Town, it is not our purpose to discuss the particular merits or demerits of the several teachers, prefering to apply, rather, the old adage "like Priest like People," which has a striking significance in the relation of teacher to School. — The prosperity and success of the one depends mainly upon the character and ability of the other.

RUSSELL SCHOOL.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Teacher, ALANSON PALMER, A. B., Salary, ... $800
Assistant, Miss LIZZIE S. MORSE, " 300

Near the commencement of the Fall term, Mr. ALBERT PALMER, who, for the last two years, had conducted this School with a good deal of ability and success, resigned to take charge of a department in the Latin School, Boston. His place was immediately supplied by his brother, Mr. ALANSON PALMER, so as to cause no delay in its operation.

The order and discipline continue good and it still retains its high reputation for the proficiency many of the scholars have made in the higher branches, which evidently could not have been made without persistent effort and hard study. The more common studies, coming more particularly under the instruction of the assistant, are also well and thoroughly taught.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

Teacher, Miss C. C. TURNER, Salary, ... $300

On taking possession of the new house, the larger and more advanced scholars were separated from the others and placed in charge of Miss TURNER, who had proved herself an able and efficient teacher with the management of the whole. The arrangement is a good one. The children are doing well, being accurately and thoroughly taught, reflecting great credit upon the teacher. They are cheerful and happy in their new and pleasant room.

HIGH STREET SCHOOL.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Teacher, Wilson Palmer, A. B., Salary, ... $800

This School commenced the year in charge of a new teacher. Some of the best scholars having left at the close of the previous term, with few exceptions, its general character was rather low.

Although there were many things at the commencement that operated against its speedy progress, it is with pleasure we can now state that the School is in a very satisfactory condition.

An interest is manifested in the whole School that speaks well of its future progress.

The promptness and accuracy of the recitations, together with the fulness of voice, are highly commendable and worthy of imitation.

Teacher, Miss Mary C. Hill, Salary, ... $300
Assistant, Miss F. R. Fessenden, " 233

These teachers have continued their labors here for a number of years.—They have had an excellent opportunity for the exercise of those sterling virtues, patience, hope and charity, to an extent not particularly called for, under like circumstances, in any other School. Though there are many scholars here that well compare with others of the same class in Town, yet the average will not. They are children whose parents take no interest whatever in their education, and little or none can be expected on the part of the children.

The teachers labor on faithfully and cheerfully in the discharge of their duties.—The juvenile portion of this School, were it not for the poor accommodation, would be in a very pleasing and hopeful condition.

There is a pressing want of proper accommodation for this School.—The rooms are wholly unsuitable for the one hundred and twenty-one children who now belong here, while there will probably some fifteen or more enter the Spring term.—Your early attention to this subject is requested.

EAST SCHOOL.

Teacher, Miss Abbey E. Worcester, Salary, ---------- $300

This School continues in a satisfactory condition both to parents and Committee. The School is large and differently arranged, at present, from the other Primary Schools in Town. The classes, small and great, occupy the same room and there is a good deal of a mixed element. — Yet the School is well and thoroughly taught — Should it continue to increase, an assistant will soon be necessary.

Whole number of Scholars, Summer, 71; Winter, 68
Average " " " " 54; " 54

The closing examinations of these Schools took place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 20th, 21st and 22d instants.

The recitations, Compositions and Declamations, of the older and more advanced scholars were, for the most part, exceedingly well done, showing much hard study and accurate teaching, as were, also, the exercises of Reading, Spelling and other studies that have been attended to during the year now brought to a close.

It was highly gratifying to both parents and friends who had braved the inclemency of the weather, to witness the condition and evident progress of the several Schools.

The practice of some parents giving notes to their children requesting dismission for parts of days, is quite prevalent in nearly all the Schools. This habit not only injures the child, but materially affects the whole School and lessens its general average.

Most of the truancy, that has come to our knowledge, has been from the larger boys who come in only for the Winter term. Many of this class feel but little interest in their School, and we have reason to believe their parents feel less. We hope that parents will see to it, hereafter, that no excuses are entertained, unless from necessity — and also if they undertake to send their boys to School, they will feel interested enough to see that they have been when they return.

We have thus endeavored, in a brief way, to present to you a simple statement of the character and condition of our Schools, that you may form some idea of the advantages and privileges you have placed within the reach of every child in town, however humble or obscure, and of which all can avail themselves if they choose. None need grow up in ignorance, for want of opportunity, of the common rudiments that shall qualify him for the practical every day duties of life.

The nature and character of a Primary School, as well as the position it occupies in our educational system, are often but imperfectly understood.

The studies here are, and should be confined to the simple elementary principles, and its character, for proficiency, is to be determined upon by the thorough manner with which these are taught, and upon no other.

The same text books are used, from year to year, and as a class reaches a certain grade, it is removed to a higher School, to make way for the next below, who are to be drilled in the same exercises; thus, to the casual observer, showing but little progress — whereas correct reading, correct spelling and correct pronunciation, together with all that pertains to the tones and modulation of the voice and the first principles of our language, are to form the basis of instruction here. Advanced studies should hold none other than a subordinate position till these are well understood; for, if but partially learned here, the probability is they never will be learned well.

It is a fatal mistake with some, and we fear too often made, that to be able, merely, to read and write well, constitutes the requisite qualification of a Primary School teacher. On the contrary, to be a good and efficient Primary teacher, requires an enlarged and thorough knowledge of her work. It is the ground work — the foundation upon which the future character and developments are to rest. The true nature and principles of the young and plastic mind, with its deathless capacities and its wants, are to be well studied and understood.

When duly considered and well understood, we think that the Primary School holds, if not the first, by no means a subordinate position in the course of the child's education, and requires the very best order of talent and capacity for teachers.

The importance of a correct education, none will deny, nor can its power to mould and shape the character, be disputed.

It is a work, then, that is neither slight nor unimportant. To use the language of another, "Nine cases out of ten, men are what they are, useful or not, according to their education."

Taking this practical view of the subject, that it is this which makes the great difference in mankind, in their manners and abilities, for good or for evil, it should be made to embrace the cultivation of the whole man, with all his faculties, subjecting all his senses, his passions, his prejudices and his understanding, to the dictates of right reason and the laws of God — To train, to a healthy activity, all the mental, moral and physical powers and fit them for the practical duties of life—To qualify and prepare the young for the field of conflict, is the primary object of our Schools; and if they fail in this respect, they cease to answer the object and the purpose for which they were established.

God grant that our Schools may ever prove true to their mission, in teaching and training all our youth how to think, how to feel and how to act, in every relation in life, with a heart of gentleness and affection, having all the elements of their nature so educated and trained in them, that our daughters will exhibit all the gentle natures of a woman, and our sons can stand up in the true dignity of their nature, before the world, and say, "WE ARE MEN."

All which is respectfully submitted, by

Amount paid by Mrs. Isaiah Jenkins, for Support of James E. Jenkins, at Lunatic Hospital,	105 00
Amount paid by Town of Taunton, for Board of the Woodard Children,	18 00
Amount paid by the State, for Burial of Pauper,	5 00
	$900 55

Which will leave a balance of $1648.04, as the actual expense of the Almshouse and Poor for the year ; about $200.00 of which was expended for relief out of the Almshouse. A great part of the Superintendent's time is occupied by his duties on the Highways, and a part of his Salary could properly be charged to Highway Expenses.

SAMUEL S. DAVIS,
Assessors of the Town of West Cambridge.

West Cambridge, June 4, 1861.

REPORT.

To the Town of West Cambridge.—

The law of the Commonwealth requires, "that the School Committee shall, annually, make a detailed Report of the several public Schools, which Report shall contain such statements and suggestions, in relation to the Schools, as the Committee deem necessary or proper to promote the interests thereof."

In compliance therewith, the School Committee submit their Annual Report.

The statistics of the several Schools are given in a tabular form in an appendix to the Report. A brief comment upon the condition of each School, in other particulars, is herewith offered.

NORTH-WEST GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Mr. Wilson Palmer, still continues as teacher of this School.

This School is in most harmonious relation with all whom it directly interests, teacher, pupils and parents. The field is open, therefore, for progress and improvement, and the result of much faithful work is clearly apparent. The teacher bestows his attention fairly and equally among his pupils. The proficiency of some of them evinces his ability as a teacher, but he deserves especial praise for his success in bringing his School to a general and nearly uniform level of merit.

At the commencement of the last School year, it became necessary, in order to relieve the crowded apartment in the lower story, to remove some twenty scholars from the Intermediate to the Grammar Room. It was not contemplated that these scholars should be placed under Mr. Palmer's immediate charge. Miss Annette C. Hill was appointed, as an assistant, to instruct them. She has been able, although they were selected for removal without reference to any standard of attainment, to incorporate them with the Grammar department, as its younger, but by no means its inconsistent or unsuitable branch.

NORTH-WEST INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

During the first term, this School was taught by Miss LIZZIE SCHOULER. She had been one of the most accomplished pupils of the Grammar School, but was not an applicant for the permanent teachership of this School. The former teacher, Miss M. C. HILL, who had retired, exhausted, and in ill health, although retaining great interest in the School, did not consider herself sufficiently restored, to comply with the wish of the Committee that she should resume her former station. Miss ELIZA A. SIMMONS was then appointed to the vacancy.

No School in the Town requires so much unwearying labor and vigilance as this one. The patience of the teacher is tried severely by slow advancement or by recoil from absolute immobility. The School room is inconvenient, and the circumstances of the School, in many respects, unpropitious. It would not be a wise thing, to specify the inherent disadvantages under which the School labors. They will, in some measure, disappear or be modified, under the unflinching devotion of the teacher. Miss SIMMONS is evidently equal to the station she fills, and has already made decided progress.

NORTH-WEST PRIMARY SCHOOL.

This School has separated itself, naturally and necessarily, from the Intermediate School, and is now complete in itself. Its increase is rapid, and there is no prospect of a diminution of candidates. Miss FESSENDEN has manifested peculiar fitness for this School, and deserves great credit for her faithful service.

It is with hesitancy, that the Committee, at this moment, when the burden of public taxation is so oppressive, urge upon the attention of the Town any new subject of expense. It would be, nevertheless, a culpable neglect of duty, not to make known the cramped and insufficient accommodations which exist for these two younger Schools. The necessity of enlargement of the apartments is so great, even in the single consideration of room, not to mention the requirements of health and comfort, and other advantage, moral and mental, that concealment or silence would be almost criminal. The important question of cost, alone deters the Committee from recommending the most thorough provision for the wants of this District, in respect of School apartments.

RUSSELL GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

It is with a sense of relief that the Committee pass to the commodious apartments of the Russell Schools. Mr. ALANSON PALMER, and Miss MORSE, as assistant, are the teachers of this School; which is, by far, the largest in the Town. The ability and time of these teachers are taxed to the utmost in the discharge of their difficult and laborious duty, and the result is highly satisfactory to the Committee. The School has exhibited, at its examinations, much evidence of thoroughness in the method and substance of instruction, and its condition, generally, is that of activity and improvement. The Classical and other higher branches are taught in this School, to a limited extent, and the interest of the scholars in these, so far as they are pursued, is an earnest of valuable attainment, when the Town shall be able to furnish to all who may be qualified, the opportunity of instruction in the highest order of studies.

RUSSELL INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

The Committee share in the common opinion in regard to the excellence of this School, and the quiet, faithful and genuine management, under which it steadily improves. Miss TURNER, by an experience of several years, and by conscientious devotion to her charge, has so given shape and direction to the School, that its success is unvarying, and its good condition always to be relied upon.

RUSSELL PRIMARY SCHOOL.

Miss Ellen CUTTER, has made this School, which has been under her charge from the beginning, an admirable adjunct to the Intermediate School. She manifests a fine aptitude as a teacher of the youngest School children, and her fidelity has been rewarded with marked success.

The experience of the last year has amply vindicated the wisdom of the Town, in erecting the spacious and well contrived School House, occupied by the Russell Schools. In no small degree are the improvement and happy condition of the Schools attributable to the comfort and fitness of the apartments which they occupy.

EAST DISTRICT SCHOOL.

This School, from various causes, is in the predicament of steady increase. Miss WORCESTER continued as its teacher until the first of March, of the present year, when the envious eye of a neighboring city fell upon her, and she was tempted to leave us. The Committee are free to express their gratitude for the valuable service rendered by her, and to recognize her merit in the order, discipline, and thorough training, for which her School was remarkable.

Miss Mary S. Cady was appointed to the School upon the resignation of Miss Worcester. During the year it became necessary to employ an assistant, and Miss Lydia Maria Crosby has occupied the post, to to the entire approval of the Committee.

The attendance of the Schools has decidedly improved during the past year. The absurd usage of "excuses," or written requests to the teacher to dismiss children in School hours, is on the decrease. The amount of tardiness is fearful, in the aggregate, and has been made the subject of remark at the recent examinations, in every School. This abridgment of School time, either at the beginning or end of the session, is to be condemned, and an appeal is made to parents, who alone have power to check the evil, to see that their children attend School in season, and to permit them to remain during the appointed hours.

The Committee, in alluding to the several Schools, have made use of terms of praise almost exclusively; and indeed, the Town has reason to congratulate itself upon the general excellence of its Schools. It is not pretended that greater discrimination might not have been made, and most certainly, that faults might not have been indicated. That defects exist, is admitted, and the Committee are by no means blind to them. But they are such as need not be made matter of public record, being local and temporary, and best understood and explained in the Schools where they exist, and by proper attention, can be remedied. The Committee have not overlooked any imperfection which has come to their knowledge, and they have endeavored, in every case, to remove it by timely action. They are happy in the belief that their suggestions have been kindly received, and faithfully followed.

In this connection, it may be stated, that the Committee have had scarcely any formal complaints to consider, and it is only in rare instances that individual members have been addressed in regard to the misconduct of pupils. The deportment of the children in and out of school has, in the main, given little cause for censure. School control, within its proper extent, has had its effectual exercise, and apparent failure has been found, on investigation, to be most frequently within the province of parental authority. Parents should bear in mind that the power of the teacher is limited by time and space, and that beyond School hours, and the School precincts, their own responsibility is to be resumed; and that if there be any debatable ground, between the two jurisdictions, it is for their advantage to occupy it.

The mode of criticising the faults, real or supposed, of a School, or the conduct of School children, deserves a word of comment. It should be remembered that no aggregation of mortals, can be more sensitive to the breath of outside disapproval and adverse opinion, than a Public School. It feels the tarnish of every syllable of blame or distrust. The teacher is robbed of half his powers, who knows that his position is uncertain, and any mistake of his the sure prelude to a chorus of denunciation. The pupil who hears from his parent the expression of dissatisfaction with a teacher, takes his place, in School, unfitted for his own improvement, and in imperfect sympathy with his instructor. Let the common habit of a District be that of open and unfriendly remark, and the School, even in the ablest hands, can no more thrive and perform its office, than can the engine work with ungeared machinery, or the lamp burn clear in the choke-damp.

Now there is propriety of time and place, and especially of manner, for the discussion of the mishaps and mistakes of Schools. They certainly should not be the topic of conversation in the presence of School children, nor the food of store-gossip, nor the common and idle talk which is caught from mouth to mouth. The consequences are too serious and fatal, to admit of other treatment of School difficulties than that of consultation among the most prudent, and free communication with those in authority over the Schools. No occurrences are more likely to be misunderstood than those connected with School management, and there are none in which the careless or slanderous word works more irreparable mischief.

It has more than once been intimated to the Committee, that the higher branches taught in the Grammar Schools, especially the Languages, occupy the attention of the teacher to the exclusion of the regular Grammar studies. This subject has often received the consideration of the Committee. It is clear that no extraordinary, should be suffered to interfere with the legitimate, studies. If sacrifice is to be made, Virgil must yield to Greenleaf; Rhetoric to simple Grammar; Geometry to Geography; and plane Trigonometry to plain Reading. The Committee believe, however, that the classical and other higher studies are not prosecuted to an extent inimical to due attention to the common branches. The members of the Committee, oldest in service, when first elected, found the Languages and Mathematics in the Grammar Schools, and it is to be presumed they gained their lodgment fairly.

The fact that the higher studies have been so long in the Schools, is significant of the expediency, as well as of the prevalent judgment, that there should be a School in which these studies may find their proper abode and cultivation. The Report of the School Committee for the year 1858, suggested an arrangement of the Schools, which were then in two grades, into four grades, by dividing the Primary department into Intermediate and Primary Schools; and by forming a High School from the advanced classes of the Grammar Schools. That Committee, which included some of the present members, by no means thought of substituting a new and arbitrary system of Schools for the arrangement then existing. They looked no further than the natural separation of the materials which they found at hand; and desired to make the best use of these by placing in distinct Schools the different grades which were grouped somewhat incompatibly and irregularly. Since that Report was made the Intermediate and Primary Schools have become distinct by natural and inevitable separation.

So, now, there is a class of pupils in the two Grammar Schools, who, in fact, are the elements of a High School, waiting to be brought together when their temple of learning shall have been made ready. The statement amounts, in the whole, to this, that the character of our Schools, pupils, modes and requirements of teaching, renders a fourfold division indispensable, if we would reap the full advantages of our plan of instruction.

But the Committee hasten to correct any impression which they may have given, that they recommend the present establishment of a High School. Even if the ill time, through which we are passing, did not forbid the expenditure, they should look upon that event as a blessing reserved for the future. They content themselves with declaring their belief; that, as a necessity, and as the result of public desire, sooner or later, our present Schools will culminate in a High School; and with placing their prediction on record, in the hope and expectation that returning peace and prosperity will bring with them its fulfilment.

In concluding their Report, the Committee would implore their fellow townsmen not to overlook the necessity of maintaining the public Schools, in their full efficiency. No other public interest of the Town can compare with them in importance. No interest would suffer so much, if crippled through insufficient appropriation. Every dollar spent for public education, is an investment for peace and protection in the future. On our children, perhaps, will devolve the duty of restoring, certainly of preserving, the institutions which now lie broken and bleeding on our hands. Let us, even at personal sacrifice, see that they are fitted, in mind and conscience, and in enlightened judgment, to be worthy citizens of a free, prosperous and peaceful republic.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of West Cambridge: —

The School Committee submit their Annual Report.

NORTH-WEST GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Wilson Palmer, Teacher.
A. Frances Russell, Assistant.

Mr. Palmer has finished another year of service, and with it his connection with the School. He resigns with the intention of changing his profession. The praise we may bestow will not avail him, therefore, as a teacher, and must serve only as an expression of gratitude, for work conscientiously performed, and rich with good result. He has labored diligently, persistently, and discreetly, to the last moment. He returns his School to the Committee, improved, especially in regard to its general and uniform activity and progress.

The School has lost its oldest class of pupils, which was one of its chief ornaments. The Committee observed that in this, and in the other Grammar School, the number of pupils above fifteen years was small. Some of these had left, as a matter of necessity, to engage in outside employment; but there are other causes for withdrawal, which will be alluded to in another part of this Report. The annual examination, therefore, was limited to the Grammar branches, and in these the School maintained its well established proficiency.

Miss Hill, the former assistant, resigned at the close of the Winter Term. She was succeeded by Miss A. Frances Russell, who had been a very meritorious pupil in the Russell School. The classes of the new assistant appeared well, and experience will develop in her good qualities as a teacher.

NORTH-WEST INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

ELIZA A. SIMMONS, Teacher.

Miss SIMMONS has given constant attention to her severe task in this School, and the effect of her exertion is apparent. At the examination, the reading was excellent, the spelling good, and the recitations in Arithmetic prompt and accurate. The School exhibits marked improvement in deportment, and in methodical instruction, and in all respects the foundation is well laid for rapid advancement.

NORTH-WEST PRIMARY SCHOOL.

FRANCENA R. FESSENDEN, Teacher.

This School has passed another year in its narrow and crowded enclosure, for school-room it should not be called. It is surprising that Miss Fessenden should be able to teach at all in the apartment in which she and her School are confined, and a marvel indeed, that she should teach so well. The Committee can no longer be accessory to this "murder of the innocents," and therefore call upon the Town for largely increased accommodations for this School, and the other Schools kept under the same roof.

It is useless to particularize faults in the present building. It must be transformed into a commodious edifice by the most thorough re-modelling, or its place must be supplied with something much better. The alterations made a few years since, were insufficient, and their cost was money thown away. The Town should be wisely economical in the change asked for, and make its appropriation large enough to provide for the wants of the District in respect of School accommodations for many years to come.

RUSSELL GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

ALANSON PALMER, Teacher.
LIZZIE S. MORSE, Assistant.

The Committee gave an entire day to the examination of this School. The faithfulness of the teachers is undoubted. In a School of the ordinary number of pupils, the success would have been complete. In one so numerous, and various in age and studies as is this, impossible results must not be looked for, and merit of the teachers must be measured by relative improvement. No sign is wanting of diligence or ability on their part, but when both these qualities are exhausted, there is failure of entire fulfilment of the purpose of the School. Relief must come to the School by separation, not laterally but upward; not by creating two similar Schools, but by removing the older pupils into a School by themselves.

RUSSELL INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

CAROLINE C. TURNER, Teacher.

This, and the attendant Primary School, have been regularly graded, and there is no halting in their improvement. The arrangement of this School, combined with Miss TURNER's approved experience and excellence, as an instructor, has had the happiest effect upon its comfort, harmony and progress.

RUSSELL PRIMARY SCHOOL.

ELLEN CUTTER, Teacher.

The Committee cannot too highly praise Miss Cutter's earnestness, patience, and well-applied skill in training her young charge in their first steps in education. The grading of this School has been to its marked benefit.

EAST SCHOOL.

MARY S. CADY, Teacher.
LYDIA MARIA CROSBY, Assistant.

The division of this School into Intermediate and Primary Departments, should have taken place a year ago. Nothing but the lack of School accommodations prevented. These should be at once supplied, so that no time be lost in changing the organization of the Schools. So far as the convenience of the rooms would permit, classes of pupils have been assigned to the separate control of the teachers, but the division is, of course, incomplete. The Schools require distinct rooms. With due allowance for serious disadvantages, the School is in a highly satisfactory condition, and its teachers are fully qualified for their position.

The Committee in thus presenting a cursory Report of the Schools, adhere to their usage, of avoiding all unfavorable personal criticism; and in naming defects, of limiting themselves to those which can be removed by public action only. The passing trouble is otherwise met. A teacher who should be inefficient, would be quietly dismissed. If short-comings in study or deportment, among pupils are observed, they are made the subject of free comment and advice within the School-room. The Committee have seen, with peculiar pleasure, the emulation among the Schools, to redress the faults which from time to time have been indicated to them. The extent of tardiness noticed last year, as reprehensible, has been diminished by two-thirds. If reformation can privately be effected, what need is there of parading the delinquent School in the printed Report.

Beyond these considerations, it would be unfair to hold the Schools to strictest account, while the principle on which they are established is as yet imperfectly carried out. The superiority of the system is unquestionable; its partial development only, makes its success partial. The system embraces in its scheme, a complete series of graded Schools, commencing with the Primary Schools, and culminating in a High School. With every year there has been a gradual approach to completeness. The end of the School year now beginning, will find a perfect sub-division of the younger Schools, with graded Intermediate and Primary departments. But one step more will remain to be taken; that is, to relieve the Grammar Schools, by crowning the series with a High School. The Committee have more than once endeavored to impress upon the Town, that its plan of Schools was of its own adoption, if indeed it were not evolved from local peculiarities and wants, and had taken shape as time and circumstance compelled. That it is not the invention, whim, nor experiment of those who lately have had charge of the Schools, is surely the case, for it is found by reference to the Reports of former Committees, that the plan is in no way a novelty. The Report of the School Committee, made in the year 1840, contains the following:

"The solicitude which has manifested itself among the inhabitants of the Town, during the last few years, to elevate the standard of education has effected a change which must be apparent to all who visit the Schools."*

"The new arrangement of separating the large scholars from the small, in different apartments, and under teachers with different literary acquirements, has, in the opinion of the Committee, tended to elevate the standard of education."

"With the advantages at present enjoyed by the youth of the Town, much may reasonably be expected, and we have strong assurances that these advantages have not been, and will not be lost on them."

The School Committee were, James Russell, Abner Pierce, John Fowle, Timothy C. Tingley.

The above extracts, to be found in the Report of the Secretary of the Board of Education, for 1839—40, show conclusively that nearly a quarter of a century ago, the plan of Schools had made its inception, and that the sagacious Committee of that day appreciated its benefits and prospects.

The simple arrangement described in this old Report, by which the older are separated from the younger pupils, and each School placed under its fit teacher, is the key to our system of Schools. It includes the whole theory of graded Schools. The educational experience of many years in this Commonwealth, has demonstrated the system of gradation to be the best, and the able Report of the Secretary of the Board of Education for the present year, discusses it as a leading topic, and commends it for universal adoption.

The purpose of the system is to include in one School only that class of children, to whom, from their years and condition of mental advancement, a uniform mode of government and instruction will apply. If the range of age be too great, the teacher is embarrassed by the variety of discipline required, and if the studies be too numerous, his faculties are overtasked and diffused. His best success is secured by concentrating his attention upon pupils and branches that do not distract by conflict or incongruity.

But if the Schools in this Town are partially within this system, they nevertheless suffer wherever the grading is not introduced. This may be seen in the Grammar Schools. In these, there has been a long struggle for a monopoly of the teachers' attention, which has ended where it ought to end, in favor of those who are properly Grammar pupils. The consequence has been, that the older children have found their claims unanswered, their position incompatible, and of course their interest in study declining. Some of them have resorted to private Schools; others, and by far the majority, have quitted School altogether. The number of pupils in the Schools, over fifteen years of age, is very small, and the Committee cannot say that the older class of Grammar pupils has been distinguished by any superiority of deportment or application to study.

These important facts being known to the Committee, it is their clear duty to present them, and to suggest the best possible remedy. This is easily done. The Town must complete its series of Schools. It must establish a High School, in which, in the language of the Report already quoted, there shall be separation of "the large scholars from the small, in different apartments, and under teachers with different literary acquirements." The Committee have no hesitancy in pressing this necessity upon the Town, and make no apology for over urgency. In former Reports, they have shown to what results the requirements of our School system must logically lead. It is time that the question was disposed of by direct discussion and action. If the Town be in earnest in the fulfilment of its duties towards the rising generation, then what is now to be said will have its proper weight.

The laws of the Commonwealth require that every Town containing five hundred families or householders, shall maintain a High School of a designated grade. Any smaller Town may maintain such a school. One hundred and one Towns in the State have complied with this law. Twenty-two Towns, estimated from the number of inhabitants, to be within the requirements of the law, have not complied. In Middlesex County, every Town liable, has its High School. Of twenty-five Towns in this County, having High Schools, five have voluntarily established them, not being liable under the law. West Cambridge stands the twelfth among the Cities and Towns of this County, in the valuation of estates. It is the fifty-first Town in the County in the proportion of its School appropriation to its valuation. There is but one other Town in the State with a valuation equal to that of West Cambridge, that has not a High School.

Now it is the long settled policy of the State, to compel each Town to maintain the best School, that its means can provide; and general laws have been enacted, by which the number of families is made the measure of ability. This Town, and one or two others are anomalous in their position. They have the wealth of large and the population of small Towns. They are not within the letter, but certainly are within the intent of the law. If this Town choose for the present to avoid its duty, it may do so, without the fear of the law before its eyes.

This being the condition of things, what shall be the action of the Town. If it do not wish to complete its series, it can have its fair, mediocre, respectable Schools, with the disadvantages of an imperfect system; or, at a cost not considerable in proportion to its means, it can by establishing a High School, put life, harmony, and improvement into the entire chain. As the Town now is, this can be done, not through compulsion, but by generous, intelligent choice.

The one great objection will be urged against the introduction of a High School,—the argument to the purse. The Committee do not, by the remotest implication, hint the charge of parsimony upon the Town. It is not the lack of liberality, but the inappreciation of an important interest and duty, that the Committee hold most in fear. The Town will be compelled, this year, to expend large sums on School-houses. But this expense is temporary, and being met, is disposed of for years. Then, again, all public burdens are increasing, and their weight will press heavier and heavier. But the education of our children is a primary duty, and its cost must be provided for, whatever other charge may come with it. Besides, no small portion of these extraordinary burdens have been distributed along the years to come, to be upheld and discharged by those who are to succeed us on the stage of active life. Is it right to impose the load, and by deficient education diminish the power of bearing it. But the Town would not be assuming an unusual liability in providing for a High School; the increased appropriation would not even then carry it into the first half of Middlesex Towns in the table of proportionate expenditure. Indeed, in 1840, the Town appropriated double the proportion it now expends,—and it is to be feared that the Schools have not kept pace with the increase of property.

After all, it is property that must support public education; and most properly so, for it thus provides for its own preservation. Measurably, the poor of this generation will be the rich of the next, and so with the converse. Property must educate those who are to have it in charge, to protect or to administer it. Public education has, therefore, for its maintenance, in some manner, a right of eminent domain over property, and the cost which the latter pays, is the lightest police or war tax, for it goes farthest in securing peace and public and private rights. It is no boon, this support of public education; it is the discharge of a duty which, neglected, would involve the community in a myriad of woes. If flagrant war consumes our substance, yet war is not perpetual, and the generation we are now educating, are to set up the prostrate columns of good government, and to secure to our land as it issues from its trial of conflict and disorder, the blessings of lasting peace. Not the least place, then, in a wise economy, in meeting the claims of present duty, should be filled by a generous provision for the thorough education of those with whom, by and by, the sacred and permanent interests of society will rest.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of West Cambridge —

The School Committee submit their Annual Report.

The Committee omit the usual detailed statement of the condition of the several Schools, except in the mention of such changes of Teachers as have taken place since last year.

In the North-east Grammar School, Mr. Bradford L. Fullerton taught for the first Term, and at its close, resigned. Mr. J. D. Marston was then appointed, and the School is in able hands.

Miss Fessenden, teacher in the North-west Primary School, resigned last Autumn, after several years of faithful service, and was succeeded by Miss Lizzie D. Schouler.

Miss L. M. Crosby, Assistant in the East School, on the division of the School, was appointed teacher of the Primary department.

The Committee do not offer extended comment on the Schools. The Town has so generously complied with the suggestions of the Committee, that most of the disadvantages indicated in former Reports, have been remedied, and under a better arrangement, the Schools are, in the main, in successful operation. The Committee prefer, at this time, to submit in a brief Report, the results of the improvements of the last few years, and thus exhibit to the Town its present means for the education of the young.

SCHOOL HOUSES.

As will appear by the Report of the Building Committee, the School House ordered at the last annual Town Meeting to be built in the North-west District, has been completed. A convenient site was purchased, and the School-House placed eligibly and conspicuously, so as to fulfil every purpose of use, convenience or ornament. The School-House is nearly a duplicate of the Russell School-House, differing in a few particulars of internal arrangement, where experience had suggested improvement. The principal alteration is in the second story, or Grammar room, which is equally divided by a partial partition with sliding doors; by opening these, the entire story becomes a single, spacious hall. The house is faithfully and substantially built, and will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the next term.

The Joint Building Committee have advised that the new edifice shall bear the name of the CUTTER SCHOOL-HOUSE. They have followed the example set in designating the Russell School-House, that of selecting a family name, localized in the TOWN, identified with its history, progress, and interests, and made worthy of respect by those who have borne it. Although it is the collective, and not the individual name, that is applied, we may yet well be mindful, that in our Town, it has long been associated with noble bequests for education and charity, which render this use of it a fitting and grateful tribute.

The Russell and Cutter School-Houses, as the Town is aware, are each arranged for three Schools. In the lower stories are the Intermediate and Primary Schools in separate rooms. In the second stories are the Grammar Schools, with rooms for the younger or Sub-Grammar portion of the pupils. Each house has a large basement, well cemented, affording a shelter to children at recess-time, in inclement weather.

The East School-House has now two excellent rooms, the Primary School occupying the lower, and the Intermediate the upper room.

All the School-Houses are in admirable condition, provided with out-of-door conveniences, furnished with seats and desks of modern and approved style, and are altogether well suited to the ends for which they were built. They are a speaking proof of the liberality and intelligence of the Town.

GRADING OF THE SCHOOLS.

In the Report of the School Committee, in 1858, may be found a plan of organizing our Schools, which has been closely followed in all recent changes, whether in the division of Schools or the construction of School-Houses. The Schools at that time were of two grades only, and were entitled, without any special propriety, Grammar and Primary Schools. These Schools were large in the number of pupils, comprehensive in the variety of studies, and conflicting in the demands upon the labor and attention of the teachers. To any one acquainted with the machinery of Schools, it was obvious that in every group of Grammar and Primary Schools, instead of two, there were four, and perhaps five Schools, struggling to be set free, and to be placed in their natural and proper arrangement. The size and character of the School-Houses rendered a sub-division impossible. The first attempt to separate Schools was made in the Primary School in the North-west District, the younger scholars being placed in a room by themselves, and the assistant set over them as their teacher. The accommodations were too limited for a complete experiment, but the success was sufficiently marked to satisfy the Committee of the correctness of the system. Consequently, in the plan of the Russell School-House, the sub-division and grading of Schools were prominently borne in mind, and upon occupying the building, the Schools were separated into their proper departments. The experience of more than three years in the Russell School, has confirmed the excellence of their classification; and the three School buildings are now arranged to conform to a uniform system of gradation. This is still new, for it has only been completed the present year — and there are many details to be methodized before there can be entire harmony of action. Substantially the system is this. The child at five years of age enters the Primary School. This comprises three classes. It is the first School, and in it are taught the simplest rudiments, and in proper freedom, the first lessons of restraint and government. He remains in this School three years, and then passes into the Intermediate School. This also comprises three classes, and here the child continues for three years. He then goes into the under department of the Grammar School, in charge of a female assistant, and passes from class to class until he is placed under the instruction of the male teacher, and thus completes his school life. As the Committee have said, the system is not yet reduced to its thorough working. Much remains to be done in the classification of pupils, and of studies. But with the means at hand, the residue of the work is of easy accomplishment, and the coming year may suffice to bring the system into perfect action. The Town has now two Grammar, three Intermediate, and three Primary Schools.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The Grammar Schools, still, however, contain pupils who require advanced studies, not ordinarily, nor properly pursued in Schools of that grade. The pupils of this class have, from year to year, become fewer in number from the fact, that being out of place both as it regards themselves and their studies, they have either resorted to private instruction, or abandoned school altogether. Old pupils do not mate well with young ones, and the higher studies in a numerous School must overshadow the common ones, or else be superseded by them, if all come within the province of a single teacher. There is but one remedy, and that is the separation of the older pupils into a High School. This would complete our system of Schools.

The Committee have, from year to year, presented the importance of this matter to the Town. In this respect they have exhausted their duty. The subject is well understood, and is now being considered by the Town. The Committee are clear, in their opinion, upon the value and necessity of a High School; the question of the time and expediency of its establishment, they leave to their fellow-citizens.

SCHOOL REPORT.

In accordance with the law of the Commonwealth, the School Committee beg leave to present the following Report: —

It affords the School Committee great pleasure to be able to report that the Schools of the Town are in a very excellent condition. The generosity of the Town in furnishing such commodious and pleasant School Buildings, is meeting its fit reward. And the wisdom of the Town in the establishment and support of a High School, is already being shown in the increased interest and energy with which both teachers and scholars have taken hold of their allotted work.

The watchword in all the Schools, more especially for the latter part of the school year, has been "Excelsior," and the Committee can but feel gratified at the progress made in each and every department of School labor. And the Town, through the energy and interest thus happily developed, is already receiving good return for its investments in behalf of the educational interests of the young. Nothing is more apparent than that the children are beginning to appreciate the liberality and wisdom of the Town, and future generations will reap ample reward from the good seed thus being sown in the minds and hearts of the children of to-day. This surety of good, if nothing else, should prompt us to a cheerful continuance of that generous support, with which, for so many years, the measures of the School Committee have been favored. But to proceed in detail.

HIGH SCHOOL.

This School, which opened last December, with an unexpected number of pupils, has been under the charge of Mr. C. O. Thompson, assisted, during part of the Term, by Mrs. Carleton. It gives us great pleasure to bear witness to the entire success which this new and much needed School has achieved. In one Term, and that a Term broken by reason of the ill health of Mr. Thompson, the School has made a long step forward. The quiet, judicious, and efficient method of teaching and government, adopted by the Principal, and the steady, persistent efforts of the pupils, render apparent the use and value of this School. Studies which could not be pursued to advantage elsewhere, have been very successfully prosecuted here, and already has a good foundation for future usefulness been laid, through the readiness of the pupils to receive and make use of the discipline and information which are here offered them. And when sufficient time shall have passed, to put into operation the whole course of study which has been marked out for this School, we think there will be manifest such a decided improvement in scholarship, and such added means of usefulness and honor, as will suffice to convince all thoughtful persons, of the great value, and necessity to the Town, of this School, which stands as the cap-sheaf of our system of Town Schools.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

The Russell Grammar School continues under the charge of Mr. ALANSON PALMER, assisted by Miss E. A. WILLIAMS, and is doing well the work assigned it. Marked improvement is manifest in many branches, and in all there is apparent a faithfulness on the part of teachers and scholars, such as must result in great good. Without desiring to be invidious, the Committee take pleasure in commending Miss WILLIAMS' success in teaching Geography. Whatever the method is, that she has adopted, the very excellent examination of her classes testifies that her pupils have more than committed to memory the facts contained in the text book, and have photographed indelibly upon their minds the prominent features of geographical knowledge.

The introduction of the "Lewis Gymnastics," in this School, has had a good effect, by serving to break up the tiresome monotony of school life, and the time occupied by these is more than accounted for by the increased cheerfulness and zeal with which they cannot fail to inspire the scholar. We hope the time will soon come, when all our Schools shall enjoy the benefit which may be derived from these simple, but interesting and useful exercises.

The Cutter Grammar School still remains under the charge of Mr. J. D. MARSTON, who has proved himself a capable and efficient teacher. Since September, 1864, he has been assisted by Miss MARY WARFIELD, who has done a wonderful work with those under her charge, evoking order and interest from confusion and indifference. This School, through the great and judicious improvement in school accommodations, has made rapid progress during the last year, in every thing pertaining to discipline and study. The removal of the first class to enter the High School, has permitted the other classes to assume their proper positions, and given them encouragement to study, such as they could not have had, had that class remained a year or two longer, as was formerly the custom. And here, if no where else, is marked the advantage gained through the completion of our school course, by the addition of a High School.

Both teachers and scholars have new incentives to faithfulness, and certainly have shown, during the last Term of the school year, how inciting it is to have some certain change in position and study, to look forward to. And the Committee can but be highly gratified with the result. In this School, too, the "Lewis Gymnastics" have been practised with good effect.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOLS.

The East Intermediate School during the past year has made very decided progress. Miss Cady has succeeded admirably in gaining the good will and interest of her pupils, and the consequence is, that the studies have been esteemed less a task than formerly, and the readiness and accuracy with which the recitations are marked, is indicative of the fitness and efficiency of this teacher. The good order manifest here, is testimony that discipline can be maintained here as elsewhere, and we trust the teacher may have the full coöperation of the parents in this District, in rendering this School equal in all respects to Schools of like grade elsewhere.

The Russell Intermediate, it is enough to say, remains under the supervision of Miss Turner. Having won the confidence and respect of Committee and parents, she has continued to maintain the position she has always occupied as a faithful, energetic and successful teacher. Her pupils appreciating her worth, and entering heartily into her plans, have shown their determination to render themselves worthy of her care, and to maintain the good reputation which for some years past has belonged to this School. Progression without crowding, thoroughness without pedantry, and order without tyranny, have marked, and made this School worthy of the highest approbation of every honest lover of true learning.

The Cutter Intermediate School has been another year under the care of Miss Eliza A. Simmons, and when we say that, we have sufficiently indicated the condition of the School. As a friend and teacher, Miss SIMMONS has succeeded finely in winning the affection and interest of her pupils, and all true friends of education, may feel gratified with the results obtained. The new and more convenient room, too, has had its good influence, and the Town may well feel satisfied to witness how good the effect has been to provide convenient and pleasant rooms for children to pursue their studies in. Tne increased order and neatness alone, repay in some good measure, the expense incurred, and when we add to these the greater happiness aud interest of the scholars, we have said all that is needful to convince every one of the judiciousness of the change made.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

The East Primary School, which has remained in the care of Miss L. M. CROSBY, has made great improvement both in behaviour and study, during the past year. Miss CROSBY brings to her task a mind and heart well fitted for the duties of her position, and, judging from the success with which she has met, we should suppose that the children fully appreciated her good qualities, and loved her method of government. We hope she may find in the sympathy and assistance of parents, all the encouragement she deserves, and which we are desirous she should receive.

Russell Primary. Here, too, as in the Intermediate School of this District, the Committee consider themselves happy in retaining the services of a teacher so faithful to the interests of the School, and so capable to carry forward the introductory work of Education to successful issue. Though during some three months, Miss CUTTER was obliged to absent herself from school, because of sickness, yet the year has been marked by good results, and the class about to be transferred to the Intermediate Department, is every way prepared to understand and enjoy the new studies upon which they are to enter. The happy faces of the children testify to the affection with which they regard their teacher, and the progress they have made bears witness to her fidelity in the performance of her duty.

The Cutter Primary has had the benefit of Miss LIZZIE SCHOULER'S instruction during the year just past, and has accomplished all that could be expected of it. It is always full, and during the year the Committee has had to push forward a class, to accommodate the increased demand for room, and have also added to the original number of seats.

The attendance here has been good, and the work done, every way satisfactory, and it is with regret that the Committee part with one so suitable and efficient as a teacher of children, as Miss SCHOULER, but the removal of her family to another State, renders it impossible for us to retain her. We trust she may meet with the success her abilities deserve.

Thus excellent in condition and management are our Schools. There are, however, one or two serious drawbacks upon the usefulness of the Schools, which the Committee think ought to be remedied. There are upon our School Registers too many marks for absences which seem to us unnecessary. Of course, absence from sickness is unavoidable, and cannot be condemned; but absence from other than absolutely necessary causes, is not only injurious to the Schools, but is a wrong to the Town. Among the duties which parents owe as citizens, there are none more weighty than such as pertain to the right use of Town privileges. It is due to the Town that such progress should be made as it affords opportunities for, and those who do not make full use of such privileges, are not doing what they ought for the good of the Town. And among these privileges none are more important than those which are afforded in our Schools, and they who from any but unavoidable causes, prevent these educational privileges from being enjoyed to their fullest extent, are not as good citizens as they might be, and are placing stumbling blocks in the way of the progress and future well being of the Town. We hope that this error of frequent and unnecessary absence, may be immediately corrected.

There is another fault which we feel it our duty to take notice of: It is one which breaks in upon School discipline and study through the tardiness of the scholar, at the beginning of the session, and his dismissal before the close thereof. There is nothing more injurious to a child, than the habit of being tardy, and there is nothing more antagonistic to the discipline of a School. It is a habit wholly unnecessary, as our Schools commence late enough to allow the laziest person time to get through with the duties preliminary to the day's work, and it is only because of loitering and neglect, that any are tardy. We hope parents will aid us in the correction of this habit, by impressing upon the minds of their children the necessity of promptness and punctuality. The fault of early dismissal may be properly assigned to parents. They ought to refuse to grant an excuse from school duties before the regular hour of dismissal occurs. Such permission is subversive to good order, and teaches a child a lesson in shirking which is totally uncalled for, as we all learn that soon enough after we have finished our school course. We hope that parents will carefully consider the ill effects arising from this plan of dismissal before the close of school, and refuse to grant their children the excuse necessary.

The Committee take great pleasure in recording a Gift to the High School, from Cyrus H. Cutter, Esq., of the sum of eighty-seven dollars, being the value of his share in the Cotting Academy. At his request, this is to be expended in adding to the Chemical Apparatus of the School, and is a peculiarly acceptable gift. We hope there are others, ready to follow his example in contributing to the usefulness of this School. There is now within its walls, a Cabinet of Minerals belonging to Dr. J. C. Harris, which can be bought for a merely nominal sum, but which would add materially to the means of instruction of the School. There might be made also additions to the Philosophical Apparatus, without over-crowding the sphere of Philosophical Education. We hope nothing will be left undone to help in rendering this School deserving of its position as the crowning School of our system, and to render it worthy to be called a High School. And we commend this and all our Schools to the care and protection of our citizens.

For the Committee,

W. E. GIBBS, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Middlesex, ss. At the Superior Court, begun and holden at Concord, within and for the County of Middlesex, on the first Monday of June, being the sixth day of said month, Anno Domini, 1864:

The Inhabitants of the Town of West Cambridge present to this Court the following code of By-Laws, for adjudication and approval, to wit:

"BY-LAWS

Adopted by the Town of West Cambridge, at a legal meeting, held May 25th, 1863.

SCHOOLS. Section 1. If any scholar in either of the public Schools of this town shall be guilty of disorderly conduct in School, it shall be the duty of the teacher to report the case to the School Committee of the Town, and if, after having been admonished by one or more of said Committee, such disorderly conduct shall be persisted in, said Committee may suspend any such disorderly scholar from attending any town School, until they shall receive satisfactory assurance of the future good conduct of the offender.

TRUANCY. Sect. 1. Every habitual truant, and every child between the ages of seven and sixteen years, wandering about in the streets or public places of the town, having no lawful occupation or business, not attending School, and growing up in ignorance, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by fine not exceeding five dollars for the first offence, and for each subsequent offence by fine not exceeding ten dollars. In case of a second or other subsequent conviction, the Court, or Justice having jurisdiction of the offence, instead of imposing fine as above provided, may order such offender to be committed to any such Institution of Instruction, House of Reformation, or suitable situation, (if any there be,) provided for the purpose, under the provisions of the General Statutes, Chapter 42, Section 4, for such time, not exceeding two years, as such Justice or Court may determine.

Sect. 2. In case of the truancy of any child between the ages of seven and sixteen years, the treatment of the first offence shall be left to the discretion of the teacher of the School of which such truant is a member, whose duty it shall be to confer thereupon with the parent or guardian of such scholar; the second offence, by the same scholar, shall be reported by the teacher to the School Committee, and also to one of the Truant Officers, whose duty it shall be to call upon the parent or guardian of such scholar, and endeavor to obtain satisfactory assurance against a repetition of the offence, and, if he shall fail to receive such assurances, he shall proceed as in case of a third truancy. In case of a third truancy, or any subsequent truancy by the same scholar, it shall be the duty of the teacher to give notice thereof to the School Committee, and to one of the Truant Officers, and thereupon such officer shall make complaint against such truant, as a habitual truant, before some Trial Justice of the county, or other Court having jurisdiction of such offence. But if the parent or guardian of such truant, or of any person against whom complaint may have been made under the preceding section, shall, before judgment upon such complaint, give to the School Committee such assurances, or pledges, as shall be entirely satisfactory to them, that such offence shall not be repeated, they may, in their discretion, direct the proceedings on such complaint to be suspended and continued for a period not exceeding three months; and if, within the time of such suspension, there be no repetition of the offence, they may direct such complaint to be discharged, and all further proceedings thereon to be forever stayed.

Sect. 3. The Town shall, in each year, at its annual meeting, elect three officers, under the provisions of the General Statutes, Chapter 42, Section 5, who shall be known as Truant Officers, whose duty it shall be, in addition to their services prescribed by law and by the preceding section, to aid the School Committee, by all lawful means, in suppressing truancy, and enforcing the laws in relation to the attendance of children at School."

The foregoing By-Laws, being seen and understood by the Court, are on this twenty-seventh day of June, instant, approved.

In testimony that the foregoing is a true copy of record, I hereto set my hand, and affix the seal of said Court, on this thirteenth day of July, Anno Domini, 1864.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of West Cambridge:—

The School Committee have occasion to submit a brief Report only, upon the condition of the Public Schools of the Town.

By a vote of the Town at the last annual meeting, they were authorized to appoint a Superintendent of Schools. They selected for this office Dr. R. L. Hodgdon, who has discharged his important duties with faithfulness and success. The utility of this office in this Town is fully established, and the Committee recommend its continuance from year to year.

The Superintendent has presented to the Committee a Report in detail, including several suggestions relating to the management and conduct of School children, which at this time have peculiar force and significance. The Committee adopt this Report of the Superintendent, and submit it to the Town, with full approval of its statements and recommendations.

The Committee congratulate the Town that a system of graded Schools is now in operation, which, without requiring burdensome expenditure, is securing the best results in the education of children. While pledging their own unremitting attention to the improvement and welfare of the Schools, they at the same time confidently look for the generous and enlightened support of this great interest on the part of the citizens of the Town.

WM. E. PARMENTER, Chairman.

West Cambridge, April 2, 1866.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Superintending School Committee of West Cambridge:

Gentlemen :—

At the close of the first year of our complete system of Schools, I am happy to report its harmonious and successful operation.

The Cotting High School has remained under the care of Mr. C. O. Thompson, assisted by Miss Isabel Cutler. The means of instruction in this School have been materially increased, during the year, by the addition of Mathematical, Philosophical, and Chemical Apparatus. This has been purchased, in part, by the gift from Cyrus H. Cutter, Esq., mentioned in the last Report of the School Committee, and in part from the proceeds of a course of lectures delivered by the Principal of the School, which have been generously appropriated to this purpose. The School is now in possession of all the apparatus absolutely necessary for its present purposes.

Mr. Samuel G. Damon has presented to the High School that valuable work, the "New American Cyclopædia, as the commencement of a Library of reference for the use of the teachers and pupils of the School." The surplus proceeds of a course of Geological Lectures, by William Denton, Esq., have been received, with the request that the same may be applied toward the purchase of a Cabinet of Fossils and Minerals for the High School. It is specially gratifying to mention these instances of generosity, so worthy of imitation, as well as commendation.

The Cutter Grammar School has continued in charge of Mr. J. D. Marston. The sub-Grammar, under Miss M. E. Warfield, and the Intermediate, under Miss E. A. Simmons. The Cutter Primary School was taught by Miss Suzie Cloutman, till the close of the second term, when she resigned, and Miss Clara A. Smith was appointed to the place.

The Russell Grammar School has been taught by Mr. Horace E. Morse. Early in the first term, Miss E. A. Williams resigned the charge of the Russell sub-Grammar School, and Miss E. G. Whitman has had the care of it the rest of the year.

Miss C. C. Turner has continued in charge of the Russell Intermediate School, with the exception of a few weeks at the commencement of the last term, during which, on account of her illness, Mrs. Wm. Russell took her place.

Miss Ellen Cutter has continued in the Russell Primary School.

The East Intermediate and Primary Schools have remained under the care of Miss M. S. Cady and Miss L. M. Crosby, respectively.

It was found necessary at the commencement of the first term to place the first class of the Russell Intermediate School in the sub-Grammar School, and to divide the first class in the sub-Grammar School between that School and the Grammar School. The crowded condition of the Russell School-House will soon demand relief. The sub-Grammar School in this house, receives each year a class from the Russell Intermediate, and one from the East Intermediate, while one class would make the School as large as the room can accommodate, or one teacher care for. The establishing of another Grammar School, which shall receive one of these classes, seems the only remedy. This state of things requires the careful consideration of the Committee, and of the Town. Nearly all the Schools have received instruction in Vocal Music during the last term. The expense of this has been met by voluntary contribution. and by the proceeds of concerts, given by the children of the Schools during vacation. It is hoped that the Town will, at no distant time, make an appropriation for a teacher in this important branch of education.

The condition of our Schools is very generally satisfactory. We have now a complete system of graded Schools, and the appropriations, made by the Town, are such as evince an appreciation, by the citizens, of the value of good Schools. All that is now necessary to keep our Schools up to a high standard, is that all in any way connected with them, whether officially or not, should do their whole duty to them. A mention of a very few of the more obvious duties may not be inappropriate here. All parents should ensure the regular and punctual attendance of their children at all the sessions of the School. Sickness is the only valid excuse for absence. The frequent absence of a pupil interrupts his own progress, interferes with the progress of his class, forms a bad habit for himself, and sets a bad example for his companions. "Tardiness is something, in favor of which nothing has ever been said." It can seldom occur without the fault of either parent or pupil, and is generally the fault of both. Children should not only be sent to school, but sent in a condition suited to a vigorous and efficient pursuit of their school duties. Pupils of our Schools cannot frequently indulge in amusements, which continue late at night, and encroach upon the proper hours for sleep, without receiving serious detriment both physically and intellectually. The pupils are at just the age when the physical development is in most active progress, and when regular and careful habits are of the utmost importance. The mind is distracted from study by the anticipation of such amusements, and the physical exhaustion, resulting from excitement and loss of rest, renders any effective mental application impossible for sometime subsequent.

Some of the scholars in the High School have shown, during the last winter, the effect of late hours and excitement, by marked loss of rank and want of accuracy, and thoroughness in their studies, when compared with those who have pursued a more rational course. The effect of this evil has been felt, though in fewer instances, in the Grammar Schools, and in some cases, even in the Intermediate Schools. Let not these remarks be understood as condemning amusements, for one of the most important duties of parents is to furnish amusements for their children, but it is a duty equally imperative to make their children's amusements innocent and healthful. The parent should not consider all responsibility at an end when the pupil is in school, but should aid and encourage both teacher and scholars, by frequent visits to the Schools, and by active co-operation in all reasonable measures adopted for discipline and instruction.

One of the most important duties of those officially connected with the Schools, is the selecting of suitable teachers. Teachers should, first of all, possess the necessary literary qualification, and should be so familiar with all that is required to be taught in their Schools, and should so prepare themselves in every recitation heard, that, if they were placed in the position of pupils, prompt and accurate recitations would be made. This may seem a slight requisition, but it is not always met. They should have the character and dignity that inspire respect, and make discipline easy. They should possess real ability in educating, that is in bringing out and developing the best powers of each individual pupil.

Hoping that our Schools may attain such a degree of excellence that we may challenge comparison with the best in the State, I submit this brief Report.

R. L. HODGDON, Superintendent.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of West Cambridge: —

The School Committee submit their Annual Report.

The Schools, during the year, have worked at disadvantage from two causes. At the outset, the Russell School House was filled to its utmost, by the pupils in the District residing nearest to it. The class from the East Intermediate which should, in course, have joined the Russell Sub-Grammar, could not be received. It was necessary to provide more room. A two-story School House was built on Mystic Street, of which the lower room only was finished. This was ready for a School at the beginning of the fall term, and the Russell Primary was placed in it. The class from the East School joined the sub-Grammar, and an attempt was made to grade the Russell Schools for the year. But it was found that the Russell sub-Grammar had one hundred pupils. This School had then to be separated, and it was made into two equal sections, dividing each class alphabetically. In this way the School has gone through the year.

The younger Russell Schools were fast gaining, and it became important to make provision for them. The upper room in the new School House was therefore finished.

Then in the latter part of October, the Cutter School House was burned. A sad loss and misfortune. The Cutter Schools could find no rooms in their own District, and the Grammar Schools were obliged to come to the centre of the town, where they were crowded together, at first in a store which chanced to be vacant, and afterwards in the upper room of the new School House. The Intermediate was placed in the hall of the Engine House, and the Primary was discontinued until the middle of January, when, after long search, a room was found in a dwelling house, large enough for the older class only.

The two School Houses at the Centre have been filled, therefore, by pupils from the whole extent of the Town. While this lasted, the grading of the Russell School was not to be thought of.

The Committee cannot too warmly praise the conduct of the pupils of the Cutter Schools while deprived of their School House. Through the hard winter, they have been constant at school, patient under every hardship, diligent in study, and excellent in behaviour in school and out.

With all these troubles, the Schools have made good progress; though so far retarded that it is thought best to defer the examination of candidates for admission to the High School until the end of the Summer term. The completion of the Cutter School House will, at once, relieve the Centre, and attention must be given to the Schools there.

The Russell Primary will, next term, number nearly one hundred pupils. There must be, at least, one new school therefore, and for a time there will be room enough; but not for a long time.

At the beginning of the next school year, there will be in the schools six hundred children. Nearly all the room we have will be taken up. The part of wisdom is to foresee the future need. The present pressure took us somewhat by surprise; but almost all the children of school age now attend the Public Schools. The Town must be ready to receive notice of new demands from the ever increasing crowds of its claimants for School instruction, and in good season provide for them.

The Annual Examination of the Schools, just made, had every satisfactory result. It has not been, of late, the habit of the Committee to make separate mention of the Schools; nor will this be done except where some change in the method or object of instruction has been made, or other peculiar reason exists, making it proper to direct to a particular School the attention of the Town. It is simple justice to the teachers and pupils to speak of them with almost unexceptional praise, and publicly to thank them for that faithfulness to duty by which they have placed the Schools at the highest point of usefulness and success.

The system of Schools, for which we have labored, so many years, we now possess. Each year proves its merit. It is capable of enlargement to embrace new Schools, and every variety of studies. Not only are requirements of common education supplied, but ample preparation for almost every walk in life may be made under it.

The High School becomes continually more important, as the head of the system of Schools, and as the department in which the older pupils complete their school training. The branches taught in the High School are many and various; yet, by careful distribution, they have been brought within the control of the Principal and his assistant. The advanced pupils begin to direct their studies towards some special purpose, such as entering college, teaching, or mercantile pursuits; and as the time and attention of the Principal must be largely occupied by this class of pupils, another assistant will soon be required.

The Committee cannot too strongly commend the High School to the favor of the Town. Its excellent administration makes itself felt through all the lower Schools, which in turn well sustain their part in the system. The success of the High School has more than fulfilled any promise made in regard to it at the time of its beginning. During the year, public exercises in Declamation, Reading, and Composition, have been given from time to time on convenient evenings, with the most gratifying proof of the proficiency of the pupils. Prof. M. T. Brown has given two courses of instruction in Elocution, one at private cost, and the other at the cost of the Town, to the older classes, with the best results. Vocal culture is peculiarly needed in our Schools; where faulty enunciation has always been noticeable.

The High School building, although at present sufficient for the uses of the School, will almost immediately, upon the extension of the studies, and the addition of another department, require important modification. The Committee, therefore, in good season call the attention of the Town to the probable necessity, at an early day, of enlarged accommodations for the High School.

Several Schools have been fortunate in receiving instruction in Music, from Mr. L. W. Mason, an eminent teacher, permanently employed in teaching music in the Public Schools of Boston. Becoming interested in our Schools, Mr. Mason has, in the kindest manner, for several months, given to them his spare time, with an effect so surprising, and delightful, that it has almost seemed as if the children, from the youngest to the oldest, had acquired musical knowledge and power by intuition.

It will not be possible to retain the services of Mr. Mason, but enough has been done by him to show the benefit of making music a permanent branch of instruction in the Schools. His method is his own; but it may be used with success, with only the occasional aid of a competent instructor, by the teachers themselves.

Several changes have been made of teachers since the last Report.

Mr. E. O. Grover was appointed to the Russell Grammar School, at the beginning of the year. It is scarcely possible to name any respect in which this School has not advanced under his care.

Miss Lizzie Wyeth was appointed to one division of the Russell sub-Grammar, and held it in even progress with its parallel School.

Miss Mary E. Warfield resigned, and was succeeded by Miss Sarah T. Hooke, in the Cutter sub-Grammar. The single term of service of the latter has entirely satisfied the Committee of her fitness and ability. Miss Warfield, through a number of years, was an example of persistent duty discharged in the light of good conscience, and in the fortune of good health. Her work was ably done.

Miss Ellen N. Gragg was appointed to the East Primary, as the successor of Miss L. Maria Crosby, in whose merit and faithfulness, the parents of her pupils had the utmost trust. She retired from her School with the substantial expression of their good will. Miss Gragg has had the advantage of the training course in the department connected with the Boston Normal School, and has introduced object teaching into the School with very pleasing results. Miss S. J. French has recently been appointed to the Cutter Primary.

The Schools have been well looked after by the Superintendent, Dr. R. L. Hodgdon, who has just finished his second official year. While they were in their disturbed condition, his unwearied attention, and almost entire time were given to their relief.

The School Committee are in no special way the recipients of the bounty of the Town, inasmuch as they share only with the rest of their fellow citizens, yet they desire to express their thanks for the liberal support which the Town extends to the cause of public education. Commensurate with the generosity of the Town is the duty to use its means prudently. A dollar is equally wasted, whether squandered alone, or at the end of thousands. The Town should watch carefully the application of the public money. It is not surprising that some suspicion of extravagance should exist where sums large in the aggregate, are expended for purposes not fully seen nor understood by the many who have not followed the advancement of our Schools. But in truth, no public Board is, by the nature of its duties, more secure against lavish and wasteful expense than that of the School Committee. Its objects of expenditure are few and distinct, and their cost settled and definite. To enumerate them: School-Houses are built, under direction of the Town, upon competition. Salaries fix themselves by economical law, or speaking deferentially, market value. Fuel finds its unyielding price, and in its use its limit of combustion; repairs are not often expensive, and contingencies have a narrow margin. A little patient examination will relieve the anxiety of those who are oppressed with the fear of waste on the part of the School Committee. Nearly their whole fund is exhausted by two or three large items, and their whole account can ordinarily be read at a glance.

Indeed, the objects which might tempt the Committee into unusual expense, — such for example as the purchase of apparatus, or books of reference — are provided for in the income of the "William Cutter School Fund." This for thirty years has been absorbed in the general expenditure, when it might have been better applied to special purposes of School improvement. Perhaps full justice has scarcely been done to the donor of this noble gift to the Schools of this Town. His will bears date, March 17, 1823, and it gives his whole estate, five thousand dollars, — as it proved to be, — after the death of his wife, as a trust-fund for the benefit of the Schools. The Town was then poor, and from the date of his will it may well be inferred, that at the annual meeting he had been struck with the smallness of the sum voted for Schools, and found it in his heart to increase it in the future from his own means. It is the gift of a humble, childless man, whose motive could not be other than unselfish, and it should be so used as to bear its own peculiar blessing from generation to generation.

The Committee can now commend the Schools to the confidence and liberality of the Town. Public education is progressive. If the cost advances, so does the return rise in value. Not how little can be spent, but how much can be fairly afforded, is the true principle. They who have children in the Schools, should look upon the money spent for education, as applied to the best private and domestic uses; and all others, as an investment to secure social peace, virtue, intelligence, and prosperity. Wise policy, enlightened conscience, the clearest sense of duty, point one way for our action in the support of Public Schools.

WM. E. PARMENTER, for the Committee.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The School Committee find occasion for brief comment only on such details as they now present in their Annual Report.

The dedication of the new Cutter School House was an auspicious beginning of the year. The exercises, presided over by Rev. D. R. Cady, Chairman of the School Committee, were largely attended, and the friends of education in the Town improved the opportunity for congratulation and counsel. The Building Committee and the builder are entitled to great credit for the despatch and thoroughness with which they discharged their duty. The School House more than replaces that which was lost, in added convenience and improvement.

Under the liberal appropriation of the Annual Town Meeting, the Schools began with a full corps of teachers. The grades established the preceding year were continued, excepting in the Russell District, where the Sub-Grammar School which contained two sections, with co-equal classes, was separated into Schools so graded, as to be adapted to the existing organization. A division of the Adams Primary, was also made, rendered necessary by the number of pupils. The older portion of these formed a School, placed in the upper story of the Adams School House, and Miss Lizzie S. Hodges was appointed the teacher.

The following changes of teachers have occurred during the year.

Early in the first term Miss S. T. Hooke of the Cutter Sub-Grammar, who had won great regard by her excellence as a teacher, as well as by the charm of her character, was compelled to leave School by an illness, which, after a few weeks, ended in her death.

Miss Eliza Simmons, of the Cutter Intermediate, was appointed to the Sub-Grammar, and Miss S. F. Gibbs to the Intermediate School in this District.

Miss Lizzie Wyeth, of the Russell Sub-Grammar Division Z, resigned after a short but satisfactory term of service, and Miss Addie Melcher was appointed.

At the close of the Summer Term, Miss Ella G. Whitman, of the Russell Sub-Grammar, Division A, relinquished her School—which for more than two years had manifested by its success the control of a teacher of the highest merit.

Miss Etta M. White taught the School for a single term, when Miss L. Porter was appointed as the permanent teacher.

Miss Mary Cady, of the East Intermediate, ended a period of several years of earnest, faithful and profitable duty, by her resignation at the end of the Summer Term.

Miss Dora Brown was appointed to the vacancy.

Miss Hodges, to the regret of the Committee, resigned during the Winter Term, having accepted an appointment in one of the Boston Schools.

At the close of the year Mr. J. D. Marston, of the Cutter Grammar, tendered his resignation. The Town by this, has lost a devoted, laborious teacher, whose skill increased as his School improved under him, and whose work would bear every test of thoroughness.

The Summer Term ended with the exercises of the first graduating class of the High School, which took place in the Town Hall, in the presence of a large audience. Four young ladies who had completed the prescribed course, read original essays, the merit of which must have satisfied the friends of the School that its usefulness had not been overrated. A suitable diploma was given to each graduate.

Rev. Mr. Cady resigned his membership of the Committee on his departure for Europe. The Town can fully appreciate the loss to the Board of this wise and faithful friend of our Public Schools.

In July a new class was admitted to the High School. The Committee see more and more the necessity of insisting upon strict requirement in the qualifications of admission to this School as the condition of ensuring its high character and usefulness.

During the severe Winter there has been much sickness among the children in the Schools. The Adams Primary, No. 1, was for this cause suspended for one entire term; and a short suspension of another School became necessary.

The Annual Examinations displayed an admirable result of diligent study on the part of the pupils, and of able direction on the part of the teachers. The presence of many parents at the examinations was especially gratifying. The Committee make no exception to the uniform excellence of the Schools.

The Committee find pleasure in giving unusual emphasis to their commendation of the zeal and ability with which the teachers perform their work. The citizens of this Town would do well by occasional personal visits to convince themselves of this fact, and at the same time satisfy the teachers that the fidelity of their service is not disregarded.

The improvement in punctual and constant attendance goes on in the Schools. Truancy is of the rarest occurrence; absence and tardiness without excuse have greatly diminished. School pride has been aroused in respect of these faults, and asserts itself in the prevention of their frequent occurrence.

The experience of another year confirms all that has heretofore been said in favor of the system of graded classes in the Schools, and as the controlling element in this system stands the High School. The influence of this School upon the younger Schools in methodizing instruction and stimulating effort, as well of teachers as pupils, cannot be overstated.

From its beginning, this School has been in the ablest hands. All that the most skilful instruction could avail for the intellectual advancement of its members, has been accomplished, but not less has every incitement to moral growth and refined culture been present to supply the fullest demands of true education.

The prospective change in the administration of this School is the occasion of anxiety to the Committee, through their desire that it may not lapse from its high character. The Committee are confident that the Town will sustain them in guarding against the decline of the High School.

Dr. R. L. Hodgdon, who for three years has rendered valuable services as Superintendent of Public Schools, declines a re-election.

The Committee have only to ask of the Town a continuance of that liberality towards the support of Public Schools, which for the last few years has been extended. On their part they will not fail to make such use of the means placed in their hands, as their best judgment and the desire for careful administration shall direct.

WM. E. PARMENTER, for the Committee.

JOHN F. ALLEN, Town Clerk.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The Common Schools are the only means of education within the Town. It contains no Private School; and with few exceptions, the children of its inhabitants are placed for instruction in the Schools which not merely in obedience to law, but far in advance of its requirement, you have freely, liberally and wisely established.

The Committee to whom the office of supervision has been confided, recognize in their trust, a direct and personal responsibility to every citizen, not only in the disbursement of the public money to which he has contributed, but in the graver duty of seeing that the children, sent into the Schools, shall not fail to receive the education which is their due, and which is the guaranty of their future usefulness.

The progress and condition of the Schools in the year now ended, disclose no sign that they have suffered detriment or decline. As it has not been for the Committee, however, to assume the entire duty of administration, so it is not for them to claim the credit of successful fulfilment. It is to faithful and competent teachers that the labor, thought, and untiring interest have been transferred, by which School system has been shaped, method of instruction well applied, and education secured in orderly and harmonious development.

The Town is familiar with the graded plan, upon which, for several years the Schools have been arranged. No modification of the plan has been made since the last Report of the Committee, and indeed for years to come the general plan may remain unaltered, although the probable changes in population may soon require a re-distribution of pupils among the Schools, and a re-districting of the Town, with a view to convenience and the equalization of numbers.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The High School, voluntarily established while the Town was below the limit of statute liability, is now sustained in conformity to law. By anticipating the legal requirement, opportunity was gained for an early organization of the School; and many favorable influences were secured by the timely and free act of the Town, which might have been lost if it had waited for the time when its duty would have been compulsory. From its opening, to the first of June last, the School was in the hands of Mr. Thompson, as its master. With what clear faculty the School was organized, with what judgment it was directed, with what learning and skill it was quickened into diligent and enthusiastic study, we have had proof in the improvement of its members in scholarship and refinement. The success of the teacher confirmed the reputation which has commanded for him a conspicuous and important position in the field of education.

The work of his hands remains, a School which will well compare with the best of its grade, and in which our children can receive the same instruction which is afforded in the Schools standing next in rank to our best colleges.

The graduating class numbered thirteen; a class unusually large in proportion to the size of the School. The exercises of the day of graduation were of great merit. Of this class, one member entered Harvard University, the first youth ever fitted for college in the Public Schools of this Town. In justice to his instructors as well as to himself, it should be said, that at the College examination for admission, he stood in the first rank of candidates, and was accepted without conditions. Two young women of the class are at the State Normal School in Salem, pursuing their studies for the profession of teachers.

Misses Dana and Goodrich, the excellent Assistants at the High School, resigned at the end of the School year.

A class of seventeen from the Grammar School, well prepared, were admitted at the annual examination in July. The per centage of correct answers at this examination was higher than that attained by any previous class; a fact showing the good effect of the High School, as a point towards which the subordinate grades may direct their studies with definite aim.

The School well maintains its character in the hands of Mr. Henry C. Ide, as Master, and Miss Mary M. Melcher, as Assistant.

GRAMMAR AND SUB-GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

There is some inequality in the size of the two Grammar Schools, while the Sub-Grammar Schools, nearly equal in numbers, show some disparity in the grading. The Russell Schools keep their classes full for most part during the year, while the Cutter Schools are found with diminished numbers at certain seasons. In accounting for this, we find, occasionally, good reason in some necessity which withdraws children from School for labor, and at the same time an insufficient reason in what seems a habit of absence when no such necessity exists. The good management of all these Schools is manifested in their uniform improvement.

The Russell Sub-Grammar, which formerly existed in two divisions, is now a single School, under one teacher.

Mr. Bradford, an able teacher, has had charge of the Cutter Grammar, for the year, and has lately resigned.

Miss Eliza Simmons a most valuable and faithful teacher, who, for more than seven years taught in the Cutter Schools, has also resigned.

Miss L. A. Porter, of the Russell Sub-Grammar resigned at the close of the first term, after a year of most satisfactory service.

INTERMEDIATE AND PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

It has been difficult to pursue uniform grades in these Schools, but an approximation has been made. The large number of pupils in the Russell District has rendered necessary a sub-division, by which there is in that District an addition of two Schools. Still the counterpart of these may be found in the classes of the other Districts, where, for example, two classes appear in one School, which in the more populous District are expanded into two Schools. This sub-division must be made from time to time, as the number of School children increases.

These Schools are in good condition in the three Districts.

There has been an unusual change of teachers during this year.

Sudden death deprived us of one of the best and most faithful of them, who at the hour of rest from her labor, entered upon the rest eternal.

Miss Gragg and Miss Maynard, her successor, have resigned from the East Primary, and Miss French from the Cutter Primary. All these were teachers of marked merit.

The Committee have this year changed the terms, so that at present there are four instead of three terms, as formerly. This has been thought advisable, inasmuch as in the old Term of fifteen weeks, teachers and scholars became exhausted, often beyond the point of recuperation after such vacation as could be reasonably assigned. With the same number of School weeks arranged in shorter terms, it is believed that this trouble may be avoided. By this change, the Annual Examinations are postponed to the close of the Term which ends with April.

The Town has, from year to year, at the suggestion of the Committee, authorized the appointment of a Superintendent of Schools. This authority was granted as usual at the last annual meeting. The member of the present Committee, who had served as Superintendent for several years, did not care again to assume the duty, and no one occurring to the Committee as the right person, to be selected for the office, it has not been filled. Still the Committee are clear that it is in every way important that the station should be occupied. The compensation hitherto has been small, amounting to the inadequate sum formerly paid to the Committee, and by them relinquished. The present Committee and undoubtedly future Committees would gladly waive all compensation, could they but secure the assistance of a competent Superintendent of Schools. It will be well for the Town to determine whether by some increase of the salary, some person may not be found fitted for the duty, whose services can be secured.

There is no system of School inspection in this Commonwealth which comes under the control of the State. The whole duty of inspection is entrusted to local School Committees. These may be faithful or unfaithful. The chief trouble—as they are commonly made up mainly of men interested in education, indeed, but engaged in engrossing employments, is, that there can be no continued and daily oversight of Schools; nor when difficulty arises can they always be ready to escape from other engagements and give attention to the wants of the Schools. They cannot for the same reason follow up changes and improvements in modes of instruction, and watch the course of educational matters so as to secure for their Schools in season the benefit of the best current methods. As an advisory Board their services can be of great value, and with a Superintendent, the whole means of School inspection would be measurably complete. The subject of superintendence is submitted to the Town as worthy of consideration.

With confidence every year renewed and confirmed, that the Town will generously sustain its Public Schools, and promote their excellence, we commend to you again this great cause of Public Education.

WM. E. PARMENTER, for the Committee.
